

- Activities of the Council of Young Scientists

1. Participates in scientific conferences, symposiums, seminars, creative reports at the university.
2. Contributes to the training of future scientists from among the students, conducts various events, contests, Olympiads, meetings with famous scientists for this purpose.
3. Introduces young scientists, trainee researchers to the traditions of the university, the main areas of work, and the prospects for their development.
4. Provides assistance to young teachers, research interns in determining scientific directions, publishing articles.
5. Activates the research work of students, participates in the organization of scientific conferences of students and exhibitions of their creative works.
6. Attracts young scientists and specialists to public, creative associations. Organizes the participation of young scientists in grants, various programs, maintains contact with foreign research centers, foundations.
7. Effectively organizes leisure time for young scientists and specialists by creating a youth club.
8. Helps young scientists and specialists to participate in competitions for state prizes and scientific scholarships for talented young scientists.
9. Promotes the creation of an atmosphere of creative search at the university, mutual demands and responsibility of young scientists and specialists. Actively participates in the promotion of the achievements of his university (organization of seminars, press coverage, on TV channels)